

his is about the autumn/winter season, especially impressive. By the rugged outdoor men's line is urban and very. You can find J Shoes in Lovell and Dan in the city and at in the 'burbs.

Goods Connection
 Clarksville Square
 Clarksville, 443-535-
 made up of four s that support fair
 anic living, socially ie companies, and s Market sells
 g from seasonal
 o bulk almonds
 t cheeses, Bark,
 pet shop, stocks
 e treats, healthy
 and loads of toys;
 ural Elements Thoughtfully) has
 the home, including ass tumblers and kbooks; and Great
 e vegetarian and staurant next door.

ha
 We
 way $30
 nor thin
 ties
 55-4
 leat
 that cat
 rec
 360, Bang Bags, and Queen Bee Creations all for under $33. (Local designer Ali Dryer's Pistol Designs line starts around $65—but all well worth it.) That means plenty of money left over for clothes!

tious jewelry. The sister store to Forever 21, the accessory-only shack houses necklaces, bangles, undies, bags, sunglasses, earrings, and shoes—most for under $10.

jewelry (expensive) Baltimore does not lack for great jewelry stores—Radcliffe and Smyth are institutions—but Bijoux, The Gatehouse at Greenspring Station, 10749 Falls Road, Suite 102, Lutherville, 410-823-5545, feels like you're raiding your grandmother's jewelry box (albeit a really wealthy grandmother with amazing taste).
 The antique, designer, and estate jewelry ranges from Edwardian to Arts and Crafts. Owner Renee Wilson (and her stellar staff) can also steer you to their master jeweler's custom designs.

